SCREEN PRINTING TERMS & CONDITIONS

Artwork: Included in our prices is one hour of art time per order to prepare your provided artwork for separations, and to output to film. In the event your provided artwork will require art time beyond one hour you will be notified and billing will occur based on the current price list in effect.

Art Proofs: You will be provided an electronic proof of your design(s) within 2 business days of receipt of your artwork and instructions. This electronic proof will detail the size of the graphic to be printed, as well as the ink colors to be used. It is imperative that you review this information for complete accuracy as once approved by you, this electronic proof becomes FINAL as to the instructions that have been agreed to between you and USColorworks.

Customer Separations: Separations supplied by our customers will not be accepted as we create our separations specifically to account for our factory work flow.

Dye Migration on Polyester: Dye migration on polyester cannot be avoided and USColorworks will not be responsible for its occurrence. Dye migration is a problem caused by dyes in polyester fibers transferring to and changing the color of the plastisol inks used. Unfortunately there is no consistency to when dye migration may occur but is most likely to occur with reds, maroons, kelly green, and darker shades of blue. Dye migration may occur after the ink is cured or in some cases as much as two weeks later. USColorworks cannot control dye migration and is a risk the customer must be willing to accept when printing on any garments containing polyester fibers.

Pre-production Samples: Pre-production samples are the only way to ensure imprint accuracy as it relates to PMS matching of ink colors for screen printing. USColorworks will not be responsible for slight shifts in colors without a pre-production proof. When requested and paid for as part of the order, USColorworks will send out 2 physical printed samples. One sample can be provided to your customer and the other retained by you.

Printing on Youth and Adult Garments: Keep in mind that the same size artwork is used on every size garment in your order unless you direct us to change print sizes. If you direct us to modify print sizes to accommodate the different sizes within your order print charges and setup fees will be based as if these are separate and unique orders.

Unique Locations: Please understand that printing over seams, zippers, collars, or other unique locations can lead to ink buildup, coverage, and consistency issues. This is an unavoidable occurrence related to these unique locations and USColorworks will not be responsible for these issues.

EMBROIDERY TERMS & CONDITIONS

Copy of Embroidery File Digitized by Us: Electronic files digitized by us can be sent to you electronically for an additional fee of $25.00.

Customer Supplied Embroidery Files: We will convert your embroidery files for free and provide an electronic rendering of the converted file, however, USColorworks is not responsible for the quality of the logos not digitized by us. A physical swatch is recommended for first time use of any customer supplied embroidery files. Customer supplied embroidery files requiring revisions will be charged at our normal digitizing rates.

Swatch Services: Swatch proofs are available for $30.00 for the first logo and $5.00 for each additional logo. This cost includes the cost of overnight shipping of the swatch to you. Logos above 10,000 stitches are subject to additional charges. Allow 1 business day for swatch service.
